COLDER WEATHER IS SCHEDULED FOR US.
Weather Bureau Promises a Decided Drop in Temperature.

The weather man who is responsible for the mild climatic conditions that have prevailed in this locality for the entire month of January, sends forth a warning today that colder weather is in store for us; that before the advent of Sunday the mercury will register about 20 degrees. While that is not extremely cold weather for January, it will be a decided contrast to the spring-like condition that has prevailed in Lima for the past fortnight.

WHO OWNS THE COAL

Police Unable to Locate the Man Whose Bin Was Robbed.

McCOY ARRAIGNED ON DRUNK CHARGE.

Entered Plea of Not Guilty, but Later Changed His Plea.

Otto McCoy, colored driver arrested by Patrolman Armstrong late Thursday night on suspicion of having stolen a wagon load of coal, was arraigned before Mayor Shook this morning on a drunk charge and entered a plea of not guilty. His case was continued until this afternoon, at which time the arresting officer will be called as a witness.

In spite of a thorough investigation by the police, the owner of the load of coal has not been located, and the charge of larceny will likely be dismissed. The coal is of excellent quality, and the police are at a loss to understand why the owner has not discovered his loss.

McCoy can not give a tangible explanation of how the coal came to be in his possession, or where he was taking it. Armstrong noted a driverless horse hitched to an express wagon loaded with coal walking slowly up Main street about midnight Thursday night, and made an investigation. McCoy, who was walking on the sidewalk, claimed the property, and as he could not give a satisfactory explanation to the officer, was placed under arrest. Armstrong claimed the man was drunk, and he was listed at police station on that charge.

McCoy's employer, Edward Mino, also colored, called on him at police station, and it was understood after their conference that McCoy would change his mind and plead guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

Four Drunks.
Eddie Ferris, John Golden, Joe Doherty, and C. B. Trusso, were the names of the four men arraigned before Mayor Shook this morning on charges of drunkenness. Each of the quartette pleaded guilty to the charge, and was fined the minimum amount, $1 and costs.

SEEKING HER LONG LOST BROTHER.

Lima Girl Writes Inquiring to Eddie Meehan, a Member of the Portsmouth Ball Team.

The following from the Portsmouth Times will be read with interest here, the home of the girl mentioned in the article:

"Believing that Eddie Meehan of the Champlain is her long lost brother, Miss Frances E. Meehan, of 433 East McKibbin street, Lima, O., has written to Mr. Meehan to secure a little ancestral information from him. "Mr. Meehan stated today that he had no relatives in Lima that he knew of, but to make sure of it he gave the genealogy of the wing of the Meehan family to which he belongs and will wait for developments. Miss Meehan found Eddie's name on one of the sport pages in the Lima newspapers and she sat right down and wrote him a letter, making anxious and searching inquiries into his family."

Eddie Meehan is a member of the Portsmouth team of 1912, and has often played in this city. He formerly played with the Mansfield and Marion teams, and at one time was considered one of the best outfielders in the Ohio State League.

GUN WIELDER HAS ESCAPED

Police of Neighboring Cities Enlisted in Search for Near Murderer.

THE VICTIM WILL PROBABLY RECOVER

Shooting Followed Quarrel Over Pool Game at Ike Boone's Saloon.

Police of Lima and neighboring cities are making a vigorous search for William Morgan, the negro laborer who seriously wounded William Chatman, also colored, at Chatman's boarding house at 142 West Lafayette street yesterday afternoon. Chatman was shot through the stomach by Morgan, following a quarrel over a pool game.

The victim of the shooting is now at the city hospital, where it was announced this morning that he had a fair chance of recovery. At first it was thought that the man was fatally injured, but his condition this morning was so improved that the attending physician stated that he would probably recover.

Morgan and Chatman had spent the greater part of yesterday afternoon together at Ike Boone's saloon on south Union street, where they had been drinking freely. An argument arose over a pool check given to Chatman, which Morgan claimed. A near fight ensued, which was prevented by bystanders, who separated the belligerents and restored order.

Quarrel Was Renewed.

Soon after the trouble in Boone's place, Chatman went to his boarding house, conducted by Mrs. Noa Elkins, at 142 West Lafayette street. Morgan showed up at the place a few moments later, and the quarrel was resumed on the front porch of the Elkins home.

After an exchange of words, Mrs. Elkins was startled by a pistol shot and rushing to the front porch, found Chatman lying on the porch in a pool of blood, with Morgan standing over him with a smoking pistol in his hand. When she attempted to disarm the gun user, Morgan placed the muzzle of the gun at her breast, and pulled the trigger twice, but both times the hammer missed fire, according to her story, and she escaped injury. Morgan took to his heels at once and made good his escape.

Boarders at the Elkins home carried the wounded man into the house, where he was made as comfortable as possible until the arrival of the Whitley ambulance, in which he was conveyed to the city hospital and medical attention given to his wound.

Police Notified.

The police were notified at once of the affair, and Detectives Reed and Heffernan hurried to the scene. They were joined a few moments later by Detectives McCoy and Stewart, and Patrolmen Holler, Cole, Blitstein and Harrison. Securing a description of the fugitive, the officers scoured the neighborhood for him, but without success. Every outgoing freight train was closely watched, but no trace of the gun user was had.

A strange negro, believed to have been Morgan, passed Officers Cole, Blitstein and Harrison, but he mingled with the men returning from the Ohio Steel Foundries, and the officers were afraid to fire upon him lest they would hit the men. He dodged in behind the freight cars, and was seen no more. Officers searched the woods south of the steel plant for four hours but without success.

Chief Vermillion was furnished a good description of the negro, and the same was sent to all neighboring towns and cities, with instructions to apprehend him if possible. It is believed that he has left the city, as a careful search of the city has failed to disclose his whereabouts.

Little is known here of Morgan, which is the name he gave when he accepted employment at the Solar Refining company a few weeks ago. He was discharged about a week ago, and has since spent his time in lounging about saloons.

Chatman, who is 24 years of age, was employed as a laborer at the Ohio Steel Foundry. He came here from Cincinnati, and is unmarried.

A Word About Studebaker Service

Hardly a city of any size can be found in which there is not a Studebaker representation. It is for this reason that we have been able to lay out, and put into successful operation a plan for taking care of Studebaker owners in a generous way that is second to none in ultimate usefulness. It has always been our policy to do this.

Our enormous business and our reputation for honesty and fair dealing has come as a logical result of such policy.

Naturally we are jealous of such a reputation, and intend, therefore, to maintain it at any cost. A careful, consistent conservatism, combined with a progressive policy towards our purchasers, will, we believe, enable us to do it.

PIONEER IS CALLED HOME

One of the Oldest Natives Passed Away This Morning.

JAMES M. DANIELS WAS BORN IN LIMA.

Eighty-one Years He Spent Here and in Immediate Vicinity.

To mortal man it has not been given to know the course of the life to come to this earth, nor when there shall be an end. To some there are many leagues, to others there is but a short journey. Three score years and ten has been called the natural life, but unto some an additional term is privileged, and many there are who see the four score mark. Then hath life been such an undertaking, and helped to lay the foundation of what is now the beautiful and thriving city of Lima.

Like the falling of the evening, when the day is spent and the shadows of the night approach, the coming of the angel of death is heralded and the answering of the human soul marks the peaceful end. For over eighty-one years he had enjoyed the favors and borne the sorrows of this earth, and this morning shortly after four o'clock came the reward. Mr. James M. Daniels, one of the earliest of the pioneers of Allen county, and probably up until today the oldest person living in Lima, who was born here, passed away peacefully at his home on south Heintze street. The place of his death, which was the present home of the family, was not more than a half mile from the location of his birthplace.

Mr. Daniels was the son of Nancy and Nathan Daniels, and was born in a little pioneer cabin at the intersection of what is now McDonald street with the Shawnee road, on the seventeenth day of December, 1831. At this place he made his home for a number of years, later removing with his parents to the farm which the father purchased farther out on the Shawnee road, incorporating a part of what is now the Woodlawn cemetery. Here he spent the latter part of his youth, and it was while living here that he was married. His bride was Miss Karissa Wilson, who then lived with her parents on the next adjoining farm to the west, including what is now the site of the Gethsemane cemetery.

Some time after his marriage Mr. Daniels purchased a farm out in the district which now composes Shawnee township, and for many years he and his wife lived there, raising a large family, and enjoying to the fullest the blessings of this world. Some years ago Mr. Daniels and family removed to Lima, and have lived in the city since that time.

The parents of Mr. Daniels were among the first people to locate in what is now Allen county, as well as in the city of Lima. These two people braved the dangers of the WOMEN FIGHT WITH POLICEMEN.

New York, Jan. 18.—With hat pins and umbrellas several hundred women fought the police today in one of the fiercest riots since the beginning of the garment workers' strike. A lone policeman who tried to protect male strike-breakers was beaten black and blue.

The policeman arrested one woman but had to summon twelve more bluecoats before he could get his prisoner to the station house. The police accomplished this by forming a hollow square which was beset on all sides by the battling garment workers.

Five women were arrested in another riot which started when the women assaulted a truck driver delivering mattresses for the use of strike-breakers.

DIPHTHERIA IN COLUMBUS GROVE.

Columbus, Grove, O., Jan. 18.—An outbreak of diphtheria has caused quarantine of children believed to have been exposed.

Public schools, churches and picture shows have been ordered closed and all public meetings have been abandoned.

Helen Kohl, nine years of age, daughter of Lee K. Kohl, rural mail carrier died yesterday afternoon. Wednesday she attended the public schools.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE MAY ENSUE.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Forty thousand Chicago garment workers may be called on to strike next week in sympathy with New York strikers, because officials of the United Garment Workers are said to have discovered that eastern manufacturers are sending orders here to be filled.

The union men say that unless manufacture of such goods is stopped at once a general strike will be ordered in all shops controlled by the Employers' Association, word to that effect having been received by Thomas A. Rickett, president of the United Garment Workers, who is in charge of the New York strike.
